JAMES RYLATT 1898-1929 (7A-33-12) Jockey

James was seriously injured at the old Kedron Park racecourse which today contains the Dept. of Community Safety. He died a few days later in Ingarfield Private Hospital 90 Bonney Avenue Clayfield. Born in Greta NSW he came to Qld in 1915 and soon established himself amongst the registered jockeys but decided to join the ranks of the unregistered hoops racing at unregistered tracks.

PERCY HERBERT STRICKLAND 1876-1900 (7A-58-20) Jockey

He was 26 years of age, and was born at Forbes, New South Wales, on 26th February, 1874. He served his apprenticeship with the well-known Sydney trainer, Tom Lamond, and afterwards was attached to the stables of Tom Ivory, who had a great estimation of Percy's ability as a jockey, and spoke of him as a second Donald Nicholson, never for a moment thinking he would meet the same fate as that unfortunate lad.

PATRICK (PADDY) PIGOTT 1853-1932 (7A-50-16) Jockey

Paddy won the Melbourne Cup in 1874 on Haricot at the age of 21 for Andrew Chirnside and was already much sought after as a competent jockey. He followed up this success with another cup in 1877 on Chester for the Honourable James White. In fact he won the Derby, Cup and the Produce Stakes that year for the owner. He received a cheque for £5000 for his efforts from the owner. The land boom was on and he invested in land and turned it into £6500 and before long £50000 but the bottom fell out of the land market and he lost the lot. By the end of the 1800s he was riding track work for £1 per week. Soon after he came to Brisbane and continued his career as a jockey. He passed on at the age of 79 years and was buried here 16th July 1932. He married Catherine Fraser in 1875 but I cannot find any trace of her whereabouts.

Educated at the Normal School in Edward Street and then the Brisbane Grammar School. He was prominent in the formation of several Rugby Union teams in Brisbane and was secretary of the QRU in 1901. He was an enthusiast in the cause of amateur boxing and all other amateur sports in general. Maurice also held many positions of importance in Tatt's, QTC, Brisbane General Hospital, Ambulance and many other public Institutions.

DAVID THOMAS NEWITT – 10/26/4/5 Cycling

On Saturday 2 September 1922 David Thomas Newitt (known as "Tom"), a member of the Hamilton Amateur Wheelers Club was competing in a cycling race at the Brisbane Cricket Ground when he collided with another competitor and fell on the asphalt track, fracturing his skull as well as sustaining lacerations and abrasions. Tom was the only rider to fall in the accident.

BRICKWOOD COLLEY "BRICKIE" 1849-1896 (2-51-2) Jockey

"Brickie", as he was known by all, was in the second half of the 1800s as well known in Australia as any of our top jockeys today. In a period when travel to Sydney and Melbourne was measured in weeks rather than days he rode with success in all three states.

PETER JACKSON 1861-1901 (5-28-1) Boxer

Peter Jackson was born 3rd July 1861. He was Australian Heavyweight Champion 1886-1888. One of the legendary boxers. World Heavyweight Champion John L. Sullivan refused to fight Jackson because of his colour. Jackson fought a 61 round draw with James J Corbett in San Francisco on the 21st May 1891.

Career 1882-1899 103 Bouts 42 Wins 8 Draws 3 Losses 50 No Decisions.

JOHN EDWARD DOWRIDGE (The Black Diamond) 1848-1922 (5-28-14) Boxer

Mr Jack Dowridge, one of the pioneers of boxing in Brisbane, and familiarly known as the "Black Diamond," He was born in Barbados Island in the year 1848, but at the age of 12 years he drifted to London. It was here that he first picked up the rudiments of boxing. The arena attracted him, and he secured employment with Nat Langham, the retired champion of England, who was then keeping the Mitre Tavern, in St. Martin's Lane.

STEPHEN ALONZO SPRAGG 1879–1904 (5/15/26) various sports

Stephen Alonzo (Lonnie or Lonzie) Spragg footballer, was born on 2 October 1879 at Redfern, Sydney. He studied wool-classing and entered the trade in 1899. In January 1900 he moved to Rockhampton and later in the year to Brisbane. He worked for the Queensland Government Savings Bank until 1903 and then became a hide and skin merchant.

PETER MORGAN 1916-1953 (1-88-4) Jockey

Peter was an extremely capable rider. According to those who knew him he was as good as George Moore, Neville Sellwood, Russ Maddock and Digger McGrowdie. All Queenslanders like him. He was well regarded by all in the racing game. He had one failing though and that was his lack of confidence in himself. There were many occasions when he rode a horse trackwork and prepared it well for a major race but declined to ride the horse in a major event as big money would be on it and he did not want the responsibility. He never faltered in minor events and won some top races but would rather sit on the fence when it came to the big races if heavy betting was involved. He had an unusual death for a jockey and that will be explained now.

JAMES MORRISEY BOLGER 1834 -1884 (7-19-22) Cricketer

He was born in Kilkenny in Ireland to Martin Bolger and Johanna Morrisey and he was married to Mary Kelley in St Stephens Cathedral in 1863 by the Rev Dr Quinn. The first team sport played in the colony was cricket and it was not very well organised. However this all changed in 1859 when The Moreton Bay Cricket Club was formed. McAdam's Hotel was the scene and James was a major part of this.

PERCY STANISLAUS McDONNELL 1860-1896 (7-59-12) Cricketer

He was born in Kensington, Middlesex, England to Morgan Augustine McDonnell and Frances Maria Bonham. Morgan was from Lambeth and Frances from Lancashire. He captained the Australian Test team in six matches including a Tour of England.

AMOS ROY GODDARD 1910-1933 (7-77-26) Jockey

A future champion jockey whose career ended much too soon but his saddle lived on to travel the world and win the Irish Derby 39 years later. The esteem and affection in which he was held was reflected by the large assembly of representatives from business and sporting bodies.

WILLIAM (WILLIE) COWLEY GOULBOURN STONE 1870-1892 (7-77-11) Jockey

"Willie" was making a name for himself when he was killed riding a horse home from Eagle Farm after morning track work. He was leading one horse whilst riding another. It was a common sight, even today around Doomben. He crossed Nudgee Road and his horse shied at a wagon and fell with him and rolled over Willie.

EDGAR JAMES ROGERS 1873-1892 (7-83-10) Jockey

Born to James Andrew Rogers and Catherine Kelly. He was one of the most popular jockeys in Brisbane. His funeral was one of the largest seen in Brisbane up to 1892. Forty jockeys followed in full race costume and the colours they wore were those of the principal racehorse owners being represented.
